ABSTRACT

This publication is the second of three volumes of a resource book intended for anyone who wants to start, strengthen, or support a program or course that combines community or public service with learning. This volume, which is organized in four parts, provides a variety of practical issues and ideas for programs and courses that combine service and learning. Part I contains 29 articles on topics including project ideas for service-learners of all ages, tips on establishing and cultivating school-agency relationships, legal issues and the issue of compensation, youth program models, and practical advice for recruitment. Parts II, III, and IV contain profiles of specific programs and courses that combine service and learning. Specifically, Part II focuses on college and university courses and programs, Part III profiles programs and courses in 29 K-12 schools, and Part IV describes community-based organizations, government programs, and youth-serving agencies.
